LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. George B. Harris, of Henderson, N. C., is here visiting his daughters, Mrs. John R. Tompkins and Mrs. W. C. Lynch.

See the new Post-Card Photos in beautiful folders at Miss Eliza Mims' Studio. Something new—only $2.00 per dozen.

Mrs. Manly Timmons of Winterset, Greenwood county, is here visiting friends. She is always very cordially greeted by the friends of her old home.

After the 31st of January an additional penalty will be added to all unpaid taxes. The law forces the auditor and treasurer to add the penalty to all delinquents.

Laymen who contemplate attending the conference of laymen, soon to be held in Columbia, should notify their pastors. Pastors will issue proper credentials to all who will attend.

Mrs. James Velix has returned from a visit to her former home in Swainsboro, Ga., being accompanied by her sister, Miss Mary Lou Hall, who will spend some time in Edgefield.

Mr. W. H. Lutton, a wealthy gentleman from New Jersey, arrived last Thursday, accompanied by his family, to occupy the residence of Mrs. George N. Ennett for the remainder of the winter.

Mr. A. B. Young, a sterling citizen from Abbeville county, has moved upon the farm of the late C. E. Quarles near Red Hill. He and his family are a valuable acquisition to that community socially and religiously.

We understand that Mr. R. L. Boddie has moved from his farm near Red Hill to Plum Branch. His removal from Collins township, if permanent, will necessitate the filling of the position of magistrate for that magisterial district.

Mr. and Mrs. John Scavin and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Garifalou, of Orangeburg, have been spending several days in Edgefield. Messrs. Scavin and Garifalou established the fruit business in Edgefield several years ago, making many personal friends while in Edgefield.

Mr. J. Rubenstein recently purchased all of the stock of merchandise of Dr. W. E. Prescott, except the groceries, and has moved the goods to his Edgefield stores in The Advertiser building. Read his large advertisement in this issue. He is offering the goods below wholesale cost.

Miss Belle Williams, secretary of the South Carolina Audubon Society, delivered an instructive lecture in the opera house Thursday night on "The Preservation of the Birds." She also spoke the next day to the children of the school. Miss Williams came to Edgefield on an invitation from the members of the Civic League.

The Advertiser is offering a brand-new Oliver typewriter for $60.00. This is a Model 9, the latest machine on the market, and is offered at less than it cost at the factory. If you need a typewriter, now is the time to buy. Having secured the machine from the factory under an advertisement proposition, The Advertiser is in a position to offer this unprecedented bargain.

The "Eatmore Grocery."

This is the style of the new establishment that will soon be opened on the corner next door to Ramsey & Jones. It will be a stock company the corporators being, Mr. D. J. LaGrone and Mr. J. H. Tompkins. The new company will carry a complete line of fancy groceries, one that would do credit to a city store.

COUGHS AND COLDS ARE DANGEROUS

Few of us realize the danger of Coughs and Colds. We consider them common and harmless ailments. However statistics tell us every third person dies of a lung ailment. Dangerous Bronchial and Lung diseases follow a neglected cold. As your body struggles against cold germs, no better aid can be had than Dr. King's New Discovery. Its merit has been tested by old and young. In use over 45 years. Get a bottle to-day. Avoid the risk of serious Lung ailments. For sale by all druggists—

Meeting of Teachers Association.

A largely attended and an enthusiastic meeting of the County Teachers' association was held in the court house Saturday, the president, T. J. Lyon, presiding. Several very interesting papers were read and discussed by the teachers. Steps looking to the holding of field day exercises early in April were taken at the meeting Saturday, a committee being appointed to arrange a program for the occasion. Edgefield has been selected as the proper place for holding the exercises this year. The officers of the teachers' association feel greatly encouraged by the interest that was manifested and will undertake greater things for the future. The next meeting will be held early in March.

At the close of their business session the teachers, about 50 in number, were entertained at dinner by the members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in the vacant store under the opera house. Through the efforts of several ladies the interior of the store had been completely transformed for the occasion. The shelves on both sides were covered with white and appropriate mottoes and banners were arranged in the centre with evergreens gracefully draped and festooned from the tops of the shelves. The names of all of the dry states in gold letters were fastened to the snow-white background. In the centre of the room a large table was arranged with chairs for all of the teachers. Covers were laid for 100 persons, the plates being bountifully supplied with a variety of tempting viands, the second course consisting of fruit cream and cake, followed by coffee.

At the close of the feast an appropriate program was enjoyed by all present. Prof. T. J. Lyon acting as toast master. Mr. J. L. Mims gave a history of the department of Scientific Temperance Instruction of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Toasts were responded to in the following order: "The teachers of Edgefield," Supt. W. W. Fuller; "High ideals of rural schools," Rev. A. L. Gunter; "The coming majority," Mr. A. S. Tompkins; "The teachers' opportunity," Rev. R. G. Shannonhouse; "The W. C. T. U.," Mr. Orlando Sheppard. Prof. Scott and Prof. Lyon thanked the ladies of the W. C. T. U. for their beautiful hospitality. A committee consisting of Mr. Fuller and Prof. Long was appointed to draft resolutions of thanks from the association. Rev. W. T. Hundley was present and rendered several selections on his cornet, adding variety to the program. The very delightful occasion was brought to a close with the appropriate song, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," all present forming one grand chorus.

The following teachers were present:

Maggie Shaffer, Johnston; Frances Pruiet, Johnston; Kate Pruiet Johnston; Sadie Long, Trenton; Maude Moore, Trenton; Mary Hughes, Edgefield; Beth Shell, Johnston; Sara Stevens, Cleora; Pauline Byrd, Pleasant Lane; Carrie Collins, Lula Quarles, Edgefield; Ruth Cain, Edgefield; Burmah Barker, North Augusta; W. T. Prescott, Colliers; Bertha Lee Ferguson, Edgefield; Sadie Ellis, Edgefield; Ella V. Hiott, Edgefield; Mamie Sill, Edgefield; Mrs. L. C. Latimer, Johnston high school; Emmie Latham, Ropers; Ellie Mathis, Colliers; Anna E. Harms, Johnston; Clara E. Sawyer, Johnston; Sallie K. Heyward, Johnston; D. S. Buckington, Johnston; Leona D. Reese, Johnston; Eva Rushton, Johnston; Daisy Lyon, Johnston; Corine Odom, Meeting Street; Alpha Hammond, Colliers; Prof. C. J. Truluck, Cold Spring; Jennie Patterson, Edgefield; Elizabeth Rainsford Edgefield; Sallie Mae Nicholson, Edgefield; Prof. G. F. Long, Trenton; Mamie Cheatham, Trenton; Florence Bennett, Allie Evans, Georgia May Wates, Lizzie Warren, Rhett Warren.

McKie Meriwether Monument Completed. Inscription Given in Full.

The monument to be erected by the State of South Carolina and the Thomas McKie Meriwether Monument Association has been completed practically by Owen Bros., Marble Company of Greenwood, who received the award over many competitors for this work. The unveiling will take place in all probability in North Augusta, where the monument is to stand, within the next two weeks.

Col. D. S. Henderson, the well known lawyer of Aiken, and the only lawyer now living who took part in the stirring events of the Hamburg riot, will make the address. The South Carolina legislature will likely send a delegation over for the unveiling.

The monument is of Winnsboro granite, and will stand 21 feet high. It weighs about 27,000 pounds. The fact that Owen Bros. secured the contract over many bidders is a great credit to them, and the people of Greenwood justly feel a pride in the enterprise of this local company.

There is an inscription on each of the four sides of the monument, as follows:

First Panel.

Dec. 4, 1852. July 8, 1876. In memory of Thomas McKie Meriwether, who on 8th of July, 1876, gave his life that the civilization builded by his fathers might be preserved for the children unimpaired.

Second Panel.

In youth's glad morning the unfinished years of manhood stretching before him with clear knowledge and courageous willingness he accepted death, and found forever the grateful remembrance of all who know high and general service in maintaining of these civic and social institutions which the men and women of his race had struggled through the centuries to establish in South Carolina.

What more can a man do than to lay down his life?

Third Panel.

In life he exemplified the highest ideal of Anglo-Saxon civilization. By his death he assured to the children of his beloved land the supremacy of that ideal.

"As his flame of life was quenched it lit the blaze of victory."

Fourth Panel.

This memorial is erected to the young hero of the Hamburg riot, by the State, under an act of the General Assembly, with the aid of admiring friends.—Greenwood Index.

Mayson-Winn.

One of the prettiest gatherings of the season was the marriage of Miss Altie Lou Mayson to Mr. Thomas Carroll Winn on December 19 at the hospitable home of Mr. C. W. Pennel. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. J. H. Manley. The bride was charmingly attired in a beautiful navy blue coat suit, with furs and hat to match. She was a picture of rare beauty. The handsome groom was attired in the regulation black suit and appeared at his best. The home was attractively decorated for the occasion in evergreens and pretty flowers. The bride and groom stood, during the ceremony under the two large letters, "W and M," that were artistically made of flowers. In front of them were the two little maids of honor, Eula Pennel and Mary Julia Winn both dressed in snow white.

There were a large number of relatives and friends present to extend good wishes and congratulations. The large number of beautiful presents bespoke the popularity of these two widely beloved young people. The bride is the talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Mayson, the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Mayson and Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan. The groom is a young man of sterling qualities and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Winn. Both of these young people are to be congratulated upon their good fortune in choosing their life companion.

Soon after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Winn left for Greenwood to take the train for Columbia. We are glad to say that they will make their home on his farm in our community. May their future life be one of sunshine, happiness and prosperity.
